

Strategies for Managing Behavior in Students with TBI

Tim Feeney, PhD

Thursday, May 13, 2010

9:00 am - 4:00 pm

The Adobe Conference Center & Hotel

1555 Hwy 101, Yachats, Oregon

This seminar is open to anyone interested in improving achievement & outcomes for students with TBI, including:

Special & General Educators; School Psychologists; School Nurses; SLPs, OTs; PTs; Principals; Counselors; Educational Assistants; Program Administrators & Parents

About the Seminar

Participants in this statewide training will learn about specially designed instruction methods for students with behavioral needs and increase their understanding of the types of accommodations and supplementary aids needed for students who have behavioral needs resulting from a TBI. Participants will also learn strategies for inclusion, student and staff safety, and how to work with and improve the uniquely challenging behaviors displayed by some students with brain injury.

About the Presenter

Dr. Feeney is an expert in behavioral interventions and rehabilitation of executive function disorders. He has over 15 years experience working with children and adolescent survivors of brain injury, has authored over 40 scholarly works on the subject, and consults with school districts to develop interventions and supports for students with TBI. He is renowned for his highly engaging presentations.
